

If cell phones are permitted on commercial aircraft, require that a special section be set aside for the chatter. I fly at least 50,000 miles each year. Cell phone chatter would add tension to what is sometimes a crowded and stressful situation, and could result in unnecessary confrontations while in the air.